MUSIC: Jonathan Coulton - The Future Soon

Can I add "anteater" to my collection of zoomorphic identities? I'd make a great anteater (<https://www.livejournal.com/away?to=http%3A//www.darkroastedblend.com/2008/05/anteater-coolness.html>).

Come on, what's your justification? Like you'd be caught dead in a fleece-lined denim jacket.

(OMG, I had no idea they were so... nimble. How cool is that?????)

This is just more proof that you're a lesbian trapped in a man's body, you realize. (Yes, you made me do this.)

How does a lesbian get a date?

She orders a drink, sits at the bar, and licks her eyebrows.

What animal do lesbians want to be reincarnated as?

A whale. They have a 40 foot tongue and can breathe through the top of their head.

...I could go on, but I won't.

I think I'm embarrassed.

No...no, maybe I'm not.

I might be flattered.

Unless I'm embarrassed...

I have to admit. I love sloths. I want to climb like one, eventually, when I do not suck anymore.

They are always in their balance, you know?

cvillette

May 13 2008, 20:42:18 UTC COLLAPSE

As if their center of gravity is always right where it's supposed to be. Yeah.

(But too slow! They need coffee. And Sobe.)

Hey! Slow is fine. They keep moving. There's a girl who climbs just like that at my gym, and she's unstoppable.

Up until five minutes ago, a ferret was my dream pet.

...They just don't hold up to the cute in those pictures.

cvillette

May 14 2008, 04:32:31 UTC COLLAPSE

Silky-fuzzy! And great facial expressions. And hugging!

beatriceeagle

May 14 2008, 19:39:28 UTC COLLAPSE

I can't think of anything better than a pet that can hug you. It's like you give all of this love and attention and petting, and one day, finally, the animal starts petting you back.

What could be more perfect in this universe?

kitanzi

May 17 2008, 01:47:26 UTC COLLAPSE

Eerrr... I've had ferrets as pets. Up to six at a time in fact, and I can testify that they really are that cute - but they are five times as destructive as they are cute. And they don't train worth a damn.

Ye gods and little fishes.

That is nuclear-powered cute. On steroids.

And one very long tongue.

If we talk about the tongue, trollcatz will tell more lesbian jokes. And more of my midnight snack will end up in my nose. Or worse, she'll tell them at work and I'll have to explain when I make the snorting noise.

This was extremely confusing until I got around to actually looking at the linked page (photos are slow, so I avoid them) - being Aussie, when I hear "anteater" I think of these guys which are exceptionally cute but pretty hard to dress up or even hold without causing blood loss in the human involved. It also made the allusions to lesbian sex rather confusing :)

Zoomorphic identities are good! I seem to be single-minded about it though - I'd a fairy penguin and pretty much nothing else. They live around here so I've seen them on many occasions. The Ricky=Penguin began as a very convoluted aside to a long-running and fairly rude joke on a fidonet BBS in the early 1990s, but I have decided it's way more appropriate than I ever thought. Think about it, the fairy penguins are small (tick[*]) and cute (tick) and look like they're fragile (tick) and would need careful looking after (tick) ... but actually they survive, even thrive, in very harsh conditions (mega tick!) of the great southern ocean. They also screw with people's expectations (tick!) by being the only penguins that don't live around where there's ice. So I get full marks - I must be a fairy penguin.

Penguins are goodly. Platypi too. If I wasn't a penguin, I'd be a platypus.

[*] I believe the American expression would be "check"? I don't speak very fluent American, never having been there.

Completely off topic, but I'm just back from a road ride where I turned off the highway onto this little dirt path (why exactly do I need to replace the rims on my road bike again?) and enjoyed the trees and little brook. I stopped kinda sudden-like to chat with a woman walking her 4 dogs (two on leashes), then continued over rise, around bend, and saw a grey-yellow pelt, head down, nosing the trail. I called "hey pup" so I wouldn't startle the next dogwalker.

Then I saw ears, and then he was gone.
